23 July 2014

Report of the Secretary-General on the implementation of Security Council resolution 2139 \(2014\)

I. Introduction

1. This fifth report is submitted pursuant to paragraph 17 of Security Council resolution 2139 \(2014\) and paragraph 10 of Council resolution 2165 \(2014\), in which the Council requested the Secretary-General to report, every 30 days, on the implementation of the resolutions by all Syrian parties to the conflict.
2. The report covers the period from 18 June to 21 July 2014. The information contained in the report is based on the data available to the United Nations actors on the ground as well as reports from open sources and sources of the Government of the Syrian Arab Republic.

II. Major developments

A. Political/military

3. Conflict and high levels of violence continued across the Syrian Arab Republic during the reporting period, in particular in the Aleppo, Hama, Deir ez-Zor, Rural Damascus, Al-Hasakeh, Homs, Idlib and Dar'a Governorates. Indiscriminate aerial bombings by Government forces and indiscriminate shelling by armed opposition, extremist and designated terrorist groups¹ continued to result in deaths, injuries and displacement of civilians.
4. In Aleppo Governorate, indiscriminate air strikes and the use of barrel bombs by Government forces continued on opposition-held areas of the city and in rural Aleppo, reportedly resulting in the deaths of hundreds of people, including children, women and the elderly. Analysis of satellite imagery by Human Rights Watch shows that there was continued heavy air and ground bombardment by Government forces on opposition-held districts in the city of Aleppo from 6 June to 14 July 2014 with at least 130 major damage sites across many districts in the city. Most of the major damage sites identified by Human Rights Watch are consistent with air strikes, specifically the impact of barrel bombs dropped from helicopters, with the heaviest concentrations in the residential districts of Rasafeh, Hanano, Sheikh Said, Haydariyeh, Sakhur, Tareeq al-Bab and Dahret Awwad. At the same time, indiscriminate shelling by armed opposition groups has intensified in Government-held areas of Aleppo city. For example, on 8 July, at least 10 mortar shells and domestic-made shells (gas cylinders known as “hell cannons”) landed on Government-held areas in Al-Midan, Al-Aziziyeh, Al-Ashrafiyeh and Al-Neil areas, killing and injuring civilians and causing significant damage.

5. In Dar’a Governorate, barrel bombs were used on opposition-held areas, including the Old City of Dar’a, Ankhel and Nawa. On 16 July, two bombs exploded in the middle of a Palestinian refugee camp in Dar’a, killing nine Palestine refugees and three other people, and injuring several others. On 29 June, in Idlib Governorate, Government airstrikes on Salquin town and Kafr Nubul resulted in the deaths of dozens of civilians.

6. Government-controlled cities and towns continued to be subject to indiscriminate mortar attacks, shelling and vehicle-borne improvised explosive devices by armed opposition groups and extremists, notably the cities of Homs, Damascus, Rural Damascus and Hama. One attack in a suburb of Hama city killed at least 34 people on 20 June; another killed at least 15 people in Al-Shouq in Rural Damascus; while six people were killed in the Wadi al-Dahab area of Homs. On 19 July, a vehicle-borne improvised explosive device exploded in Douma, in a densely populated area, killing at least 22 people and injuring more than 50. In Damascus, indiscriminate shelling by armed opposition groups and extremists intensified from 11 to 17 July, resulting in civilian casualties. For example, on 16 July, shelling resulted in the deaths of four people and injured 22 people in the Al-Shaalan neighbourhood.

7. All parties to the conflict are increasingly targeting vital services resulting in interruptions to the supply of safe drinking water and electricity. This is compounding the already dire water, sanitation and health conditions in conflict areas and resulting in an increased risk of outbreaks of waterborne diseases. In Aleppo city, damage caused to the main water pumping station by opposition groups on 2 June continues to limit water to approximately 2.5 million people, almost 1 million of whom require urgent assistance. Negotiations to access the water pumping station to conduct repairs and provide fuel have been ongoing since 2 June. On 19 July, repairs to the damaged water network began after technicians were allowed access to the site. Repairs are expected to be completed in a month. As at 23 June, power supply in Idlib city has been intermittent, owing to cuts by armed opposition groups in rural areas housing the electric cables. This has resulted in reduced availability of water supply to the city.

8. The Islamic State declared an Islamic Caliphate on 29 June, stretching from Aleppo Governorate to Diyala Governorate in eastern Iraq. This area has an estimated population of up to 7 million people. Fighting intensified in the Syrian Arab Republic between the Islamic State and the Government and armed opposition groups in Deir ez-Zor, Ar-Raqqah, Al-Hasakeh and the Kurdish areas of northern Aleppo Governorate, resulting in the displacement of a total of 250,000 people.

9. Recent developments in the Ninewa Governorate of Iraq have resulted in displacement to the north-eastern parts of the country and insecurity in areas along the Syrian-Iraqi borders. The Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) has started the registration of an estimated 3,000 newly arrived

Iraqi refugees in the Syrian Arab Republic, while an estimated 1,000 Syrians previously seeking refuge in Iraq have crossed back into the eastern part of the country. Estimates indicate that hundreds of Syrians are returning to the Syrian Arab Republic on a daily basis.

10. While the United Nations does not have the means to independently verify their number and origins, non-Syrian fighters from a number of countries are increasingly participating in the fighting in the Syrian Arab Republic, supporting all sides of the conflict, including designated terrorist groups. On 29 June, the Islamic State issued a statement announcing that the Caliphate included people of the following nationalities: Caucasian, Indian, Chinese, Shami (Levantine), Iraqi, Yemeni, Egyptian, North African, American, French, German and Australian. Non-Syrian fighters also continue to support Syrian Government forces, with reports of Lebanese Hizbullah fighters operating with Government forces in Aleppo, Dar'a and Damascus Governorates. Unverified reports indicate that a number of Shia Iraqi militia, who fought in support of Syrian Government forces, mainly in Rural Damascus, have returned to Iraq, to repel the recent advances of the Islamic State in the country.

11. There are a number of ongoing negotiations on ceasefire agreements between the Government and armed opposition groups, including in Yarmouk, Homs and Dar'a. In Yarmouk, an agreement on cessation of hostilities was reached between Syrian authorities and armed opposition groups on 21 June. However, reports indicate that the agreement has not yet been fully implemented and that further negotiations are ongoing. In Homs, negotiations on a ceasefire are continuing in the Al-Wa'er neighbourhood. A ceasefire started in Al-Wa'er on 26 June but was breached on 29 June following reports of shelling. In Dar'a, negotiations on a ceasefire are under way in the Dar'a al-Balad area, including with Jabhat al-Nusra.

12. On 22 June, firing into the Israeli-occupied Golan resulted in the death of an Israeli teenager and injured three others. The Israel Defense Forces fired several rounds of tank fire and conducted air strikes in the early hours the following day. No personnel of the United Nations Disengagement Observer Force (UNDOF) were affected.

B. Human rights

13. During the reporting period, the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR) continued to receive reports of arbitrary arrest, detention, torture and ill-treatment, allegedly perpetrated by members of the Syrian security apparatus. OHCHR received information indicating that at least seven detainees died as a result of torture in Government-run detention facilities, including at the Military Intelligence Branch in Damascus and the Political Security Branch in Hama. Meanwhile, OHCHR received reports that from 18 to 22 June at least 12 civilians were taken by security forces from their homes in the Salamiyah district of Hama, with no reason given for their detention. The Government has yet to put in place a mechanism to investigate serious and credible allegations of torture and ill-treatment.

14. In Homs, OHCHR received reports that over 100 detained evacuees from Old Homs are being held in different locations in Homs following their transfer from Al-Andalus school. OHCHR received reports that some of those evacuees were tortured and ill-treated during their interrogation by members of the security branches at the Al-Andalus school facility. Around 29 families and 40 men currently remain at the facility, who are unable to leave as they lack documentation or who choose to stay because of insecurity in their area of origin.

15. As at 7 July, the fate of at least 200 prisoners and detainees from Aleppo Central Prison remains unknown. On 25 June, OHCHR sent a note verbale to the Government of the Syrian Arab Republic regarding the status of those detainees, but no reply had been received as at 16 July. Information obtained by OHCHR indicates that conditions in makeshift places of detention, such as Al-Wahda School where prisoners from Aleppo Central Prison were transferred in May 2014, continue to be overcrowded and inhumane.

16. Children continue to be severely affected by the conflict. According to a report by Human Rights Watch, armed opposition groups, including the Free Syrian Army, Jabhat al-Nusra and the Islamic State, and the People's Protection Units have been recruiting and using children under 18 in combat and in direct support roles. However, some armed groups have taken steps to end the use of children in the conflict. On 5 July, the People's Protection Units, the Women's Protection Units and the Democratic Self-Administration in Rojava demobilized 149 children from their ranks and signed the Deed of Commitment protecting children in armed conflict developed by the non-governmental organization Geneva Call.

17. On 29 June, while returning home from school, four girls were killed and four other children were injured when mortars landed in front of a secondary school in Ar-Rastan in Rural Homs. Meanwhile, as at 14 July, around 130 of the 153 students abducted by the Islamic State on 29 May in Ain al-Arab continue to be held by the group.

18. The Government stated that 1,205 individuals were pardoned between 3 and 16 July following Legislative Decree 22 of 9 June 2014. According to reports, the Governor of Homs stated that 118 men detained at the Al-Andalus school facility were pardoned. However, OHCHR has not been able to verify the information.

19. OHCHR was informed that the Islamic State continue to hold approximately 250 civilians, including approximately 160 migrant workers, who were abducted some six months ago when returning to Kobani/Ain al-Arab from Iraq. OHCHR also received reports of a massacre on 9 July in the rural town of Khattab in Hama Governorate, during which 14 civilians were reportedly killed by unknown armed men.

20. On 27 June, the Human Rights Council adopted resolution 26/23 on the continuing grave deterioration in the human rights and humanitarian situation in the Syrian Arab Republic, in which it demanded, inter alia, an end to the violence, including the demilitarization of medical facilities and schools, and full cooperation by the Government of the Syrian Arab Republic with the independent international commission of inquiry on the Syrian Arab Republic. On 4 July, the Committee on the Elimination of Discrimination against Women considered the second periodic report of the Syrian Arab Republic (CEDAW/C/SYR/2), noting a range of human rights challenges and violations facing women and girls in the country.

21. Members of the independent international commission of inquiry on the Syrian Arab Republic, OHCHR, and United Nations human rights mechanisms, including special procedures mandate holders, continued to be denied access to the Syrian Arab Republic during the reporting period.

C. Humanitarian access

22. Approximately 10.8 million people continue to be in need of urgent humanitarian assistance within the Syrian Arab Republic, including more than 6.4 million people who are internally displaced. It is now estimated that 4.7 million people reside in areas that are hard to reach. This includes at least 241,000 people who continue to live in areas that are besieged by either Government or opposition forces.

23. Insecurity and challenges with implementing the new truck sealing procedure, put in place by the Government, continue to affect sustainable delivery of aid. Intense negotiations by the United Nations with the Government continued during the reporting period to resolve these issues. In June, food deliveries continued to be fewer than in the first quarter of the year, reaching only 81 per cent of the target — compared to 97 per cent in March. However, thanks to some progress in negotiations, food deliveries started to increase in July. By 15 July, the World Food Programme (WFP) had dispatched food rations for nearly 1.6 million people, an increase of approximately 15 and 10 per cent in comparison to the same period in May and June, respectively.

24. The delivery of humanitarian assistance to hard-to-reach areas remains extremely difficult in view of the new procedures which have centralized approvals. Overall, assistance reached only 49 (or 17 per cent) of the 287 locations identified as besieged or hard to reach. The number of people reached in hard-to-reach locations has dropped since the last reporting period. Food assistance by WFP and the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East (UNRWA) reached 95,838 people in 14 hard-to-reach locations during the reporting period compared to 348,819 people during the previous reporting period. From 18 June to 21 July, UNHCR and the International Organization for Migration (IOM) delivered non-food items to 62,090 people in 29 hard-to-reach locations compared to 268,960 people during the previous reporting period.

25. During the reporting period, armed opposition groups and designated terrorist groups have severely constrained access to the eastern governorates. Deir ez-Zor continues to suffer from severe access constraints as a result of the Islamic State's efforts to block humanitarian and commercial access into the Governorate from Ar-Raqqa, Al-Hasakeh and the southern desert region — areas in which the Islamic State control all major access routes. Some 711,000 civilians are estimated to be affected. Similarly, in Ar-Raqqa, the Islamic State and armed opposition groups are blocking humanitarian and commercial access to areas that are under the control of others. As a result, access to Al-Hasakeh is also constrained.

26. During the reporting period, United Nations agencies and partners continued their efforts to deliver assistance to those in need. In June, WFP dispatched food for over 3.4 million people across 13 of the 14 governorates. Deliveries of chlorine by the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) benefited 16.5 million people with clean water. In order to address the water crisis in Aleppo, UNICEF provided water trucking services and fuel for water stations in partnership with non-governmental organizations, the municipalities and the Aleppo Water Authority. From 18 June to

8 July, UNHCR dispatched core relief items to 243,222 people, many displaced from hard-to-reach areas. The World Health Organization (WHO) delivered medical assistance to over 2.1 million people.

27. In a note verbale dated 14 July, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs requested United Nations agencies to send humanitarian assistance to Adra Ummaleya and Adra al-Balad, in Rural Damascus, as those areas have not received assistance from the United Nations for more than six months.

Besieged areas

28. Approximately 241,000 people remain besieged — 196,000 in areas that are besieged by Government forces in Madamiyet Elsham, Eastern Ghouta, Darayya and Yarmouk, and 45,000 in areas besieged by opposition forces in Nubul and Zahra.

29. During the reporting period, assistance reached only two besieged communities, Yarmouk and Madamiyet Elsham. Food was distributed to 42,084 people, or 17.4 per cent, and non-food items to 20,000 people, or 8.2 per cent of people in besieged areas.

30. Eastern Ghouta: 150,000 people remain besieged in Eastern Ghouta. A convoy request was submitted for Douma on 9 July for 14 to 16 July targeting 50,000 people. No response has been received from the Government. Eastern Ghouta (Douma) was last reached with humanitarian assistance on 24 May.

31. Madamiyet Elsham: as a result of new arrivals from Darayya, the population has increased from 20,000 to 24,000 in the city. Although a local ceasefire is still holding, civilians inside the city are facing a shortage of basic needs and movement constraints. After intense negotiations, with 20 requests submitted for access to the area since March 2013, an inter-agency team was able to access the town with supplies on 14 July. It was originally scheduled for 9 and 10 July but faced delays because of extensive negotiations on the type of supplies, quantities, procedures to move the trucks and additional screening and processing imposed. From 14 to 21 July, seven convoys have proceeded, providing supplies for a total of 30,000 people — 20,000 inside the besieged area of Madamiyet and 10,000 in Government-held areas of the town. No medical supplies, including primary health-care kits for children, were allowed on the convoy in flagrant violation of international humanitarian law. However, two mobile clinics of the Syrian Arab Red Crescent (SARC) accessed the area and provided medical services and 1,000 doses of vaccines (polio and regular immunization) on 15, 16, 17 and 21 July. The health situation remains critical as there is only one health centre in the area and severe shortages of medicines.

32. Darayya: approximately 4,000 people remain besieged in Darayya, Rural Damascus, with no access to assistance during the reporting period. Owing to an increase in hostilities, an estimated 4,000 people have fled Darayya to Madamiyet Elsham which is adjacent. Darayya was last assisted in October 2012.

33. Yarmouk: 18,000 people remain besieged in Yarmouk. UNRWA accessed Yarmouk from 7 to 13 July and from 16 to 19 July, reaching 22,084 people with food parcels, after more than a month of interruption following its food distribution on 23 May and its distribution of non-food items on 7 June. Distributions remain insufficient to cover the minimum food needs of the civilian population in Yarmouk.

Three thousand doses of polio vaccine and a range of smaller items were also delivered on 16 July, including baby hygiene kits, rehydration salts, vitamins and lice treatments. In response to unconfirmed reports of approximately 100 typhoid cases on 18 July, UNRWA medical staff initiated an immediate investigation and were permitted to take blood samples from 12 patients, 4 of whom tested positive for typhoid. On 19 July, UNRWA transferred typhoid medicines comprising a range of antibiotics, syrups, tablets and injections to the Palestine Red Crescent Society, sufficient for approximately 100 patients, for treatment of patients inside Yarmouk. Water purification tablets were also provided.

34. Nubul and Zahra: 45,000 people remain besieged by opposition forces in Nubul and Zahra. Nubul and Zahra were targeted by domestic-made rockets on 9 July causing an unspecified number of casualties. No humanitarian assistance has reached the two villages since 8 May.

Cross-border assistance

35. On 14 July, the Security Council, by resolution 2165 \(2014\), authorized United Nations humanitarian agencies and their implementing partners to use additional border crossings for delivery of humanitarian assistance: Bab al-Salam and Bab al-Hawa with Turkey, Al-Yarubiyah with Iraq and Al-Ramtha with Jordan. The Council established a mechanism to monitor the loading of all humanitarian relief consignments of the United Nations humanitarian agencies and their implementing partners at the relevant United Nations facilities with notification to the Syrian authorities.

36. Since the adoption of the resolution, the United Nations has conducted preliminary consultations and scoping to set up the monitoring mechanism, deploy staff, identify loading points and prepare convoys to reach areas through the four additional border crossings, as part of its whole of approach to the Syrian Arab Republic.

37. Relief items are urgently needed in Qamishly because of the deteriorating humanitarian situation in Al-Hasakeh Governorate. On 9 July, UNHCR commenced airlifts from Damascus to Qamishly to transport 10,000 non-food item kits, sufficient for approximately 50,000 people, to provide assistance to people in hard-to-reach areas in Al-Hasakeh Governorate. Joint airlifts led by WFP from Damascus to Qamishly to transport food for over 50,000 people as well as water, sanitation and hygiene items and medicines are scheduled to commence shortly.

Free passage of medical supplies, personnel and equipment

38. The Government of the Syrian Arab Republic continues to deny approvals of injectable medicines and surgical equipment destined for hard-to-reach areas in flagrant violation of international humanitarian law. In some cases, the Government has denied the inclusion of any medical aid, such as in Madamiyet Elsham. This has resulted in denying supplies and the pre-positioning of life-saving treatment for six months for 24,000 people. During the inter-agency convoy to Madamiyet, two SARC mobile clinics were unable to carry any critical medicines for treatment of medical cases.

39. During the reporting period, WHO delivered medicines and medical equipment for 2.1 million people in nine governorates (Aleppo, Al-Hasakeh, Ar-Raqqa, Damascus, Dara'a, Homs, Idlib, Quneitra and Rural Damascus). This included treatments² for 412,049 people in opposition-controlled areas in Aleppo and Ar-Raqqa, where medicines and supplies for 344,363 people were delivered to health authorities and are currently being distributed. Further treatments for around 1.1 million people have been provided to health authorities in governorates for further distribution, predominantly to Government-controlled areas; and treatments for 439,250 people are pre-positioned with SARC for distribution through partners and inter-agency convoys.

40. The seventh countrywide vaccination campaign for polio was conducted from 15 to 19 June. The latest campaign reached 2.7 million children across the country, including children in contested and hard-to-reach areas.

41. There are now 389 confirmed measles cases out of more than 2,800 suspected cases in the Syrian Arab Republic. Most of the cases are found in the hard-to-reach Governorates of Deir ez-Zor and Ar-Raqqa. UNICEF and WHO supported a Ministry of Health-led campaign from 15 to 26 June which aimed to reach up to 1 million children aged between 6 months and 10 years in high-risk areas. Preliminary figures from the campaign show that around 746,279 children were reached. The measles campaign, including provision of vitamin A, was conducted in all 14 governorates, including Deir ez-Zor (123,144), Aleppo (88,773) and Al-Hasakeh (83,539).

42. Attacks on medical facilities have significantly increased over the reporting period. During the month of June, Physicians for Human Rights documented 12 attacks on medical facilities. This is the second highest number of facility attacks recorded in a single month since December 2012. The attacks occurred in Aleppo, Hama, Homs, Idlib and Rural Damascus Governorates. All 12 documented attacks were committed by Government forces. The deaths of 19 medical personnel were also documented; 18 were committed by Government forces and one by an armed opposition group.

Administrative procedures

43. The implementation of the new procedure for the sealing of trucks intended to facilitate passage at checkpoints continued to slow down the delivery of humanitarian assistance. During the reporting period, the Government of the Syrian Arab Republic reiterated that the new procedure for movement of relief supplies applied to regular programmes only and not to hard-to-reach areas.³ The movement of supplies to hard-to-reach areas has to be negotiated on a case-by-case basis through meetings of the Joint Committee, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the Ministry of Social Affairs and security personnel nationally. This directive is also applicable for authorization for hard-to-reach areas from United Nations hubs at the governorate level, which previously did not require authorization at the central/national level. In Aleppo, Hama, Homs and Idlib, the Governors have implemented the new directive and convoys are no longer authorized at hub level.

² One standard treatment course (e.g. a course of antibiotics for 8 days) is considered to be treatment for one person. Treatment courses are determined for each medicine distribution on the basis of international WHO standards.

³ The Government of the Syrian Arab Republic refers to "hot spots". Clarification was requested by the United Nations on 16 July for the definition and criteria of hot spots but has not been received to date. For the purpose of this report, these are referred to as hard-to-reach areas until this is clarified, owing to the difficulty in reaching these locations.

WHO has received exemption from some of these procedures with respect to medicines, vaccines and some medical equipment.

44. On 18 June, UNHCR officially opened a field office in the city of As-Sweida to oversee its activities in the southern Syrian Arab Republic, in addition to establishing a logistics hub for humanitarian supplies arriving across the Syrian/Jordanian border. This will permit improved coverage of needs of internally displaced people in the Governorates of Dar'a, As-Sweida and Quneitra.

45. As at 18 July, a total of 68 visas or renewal requests remained pending; 29 within the 15 working day limit and 39 exceeding the 15 working day limit. Requested visas for the much-needed crop and food security assessment mission were granted for one week and only after crops had already been harvested, hampering the conduct of a credible and independent assessment. During the reporting period, there has been an increase in the number of pending visas for international non-governmental organizations, with 17 requests now pending, up from 13 during the last reporting period.

46. During the reporting period, there has been no change in the number of national non-governmental organizations authorized to partner with United Nations agencies: as at 17 July, 85 national non-governmental organizations are operating through 142 branches throughout the Syrian Arab Republic.

47. International non-governmental organizations continue to be unable to conduct independent (or joint) needs assessments; open sub-offices; monitor the impact of their work; and participate in inter-agency cross-line convoys.

Safety and security of staff and premises

48. On 5 July, a tank shell hit a vehicle in an UNDOF convoy, lightly wounding two peacekeepers. On 7 July, tank fire struck United Nations vehicles on patrol.

49. Twenty-eight United Nations national staff members continue to be detained or are missing: 27 from UNRWA are detained or presumed missing and one from the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP) is detained. The total number of humanitarian workers killed since March 2011 is 59. This includes 14 United Nations staff members, 37 SARC staff members and volunteers, seven Palestine Red Crescent Society volunteers and staff members, and one staff member of an international non-governmental organization.

III. Observations

50. As I have made clear to the Security Council on many occasions, a political solution is urgently needed in the Syrian Arab Republic. On 10 July, I appointed Staffan de Mistura as my Special Envoy for the Syrian Arab Republic. Together with his deputy, Ramzy Ezzeldin Ramzy, he will work with Syrian parties, as well as with regional and international stakeholders, to identify new elements for a political process that brings an end to the violence and facilitates a peaceful Syrian-led and inclusive political solution, and that meets the democratic aspirations of the Syrian people.

51. On 20 June, I set out six key areas for urgent action. First, bringing an end to the violence. I repeat my call for an arms embargo. Second, protecting the human rights, safety and dignity of the Syrian people. Third, starting a serious political process for a new Syrian Arab Republic. Fourth, addressing the issue of accountability for the serious crimes committed by all sides. Fifth, completing the destruction of the chemical weapons production facilities. This has now been achieved. Sixth, the need to address the regional dimensions of the conflict, including the extremist threat.

52. Ways must be found to build bridges that promote peace and reconciliation, and to halt the influence of radical armed groups, including those affiliated with Al-Qaida. The world must come together to stop funding and other support for organizations designated as terrorist groups by the Security Council, including Jabhat al-Nusra and the Islamic State.

53. This month, thousands of people were killed, displaced and traumatized by indiscriminate attacks by the parties to the conflict, including by the continuing use of explosive weapons in populated areas. Children continue to be killed, maimed and recruited by parties to the conflict. The Government continues to drop barrel bombs and carries out indiscriminate aerial bombardments in populated areas, with horrific consequences for Syrian women, children and men. The indiscriminate use of mortar and shelling of residential neighbourhoods by armed opposition groups is relentless. Human rights violations continue to be widespread, and attacks on medical facilities are on the increase in a blatant violation of international humanitarian law. Fundamental principles of humanity continue to be ignored every day. Deliberately targeting civilians is a war crime for which there can be no impunity.

54. The parties have continued to obstruct humanitarian assistance to those most in need and to withhold consent for operations in a completely arbitrary manner as a tactic of war. I call upon parties to the conflict to lift the sieges immediately and facilitate access to people in need of humanitarian assistance. I remind the parties to this conflict of their obligation to allow and facilitate access for humanitarian assistance, as demanded by the Security Council, by international humanitarian law, and by the most basic principles of humanity.

55. It is continuing violations that have led the Council to adopt resolution 2165 \(2014\), a resolution which should not have been necessary. Resolution 2165 \(2014\) makes four additional border crossings available to the United Nations and its implementing partners and could help humanitarian actors to reach up to 2.9 million more people, if security and other conditions allow. But this will be possible if, and only if, the parties to the conflict live up to their responsibilities to enable and facilitate access.

56. I call upon the parties to the conflict, in the strongest terms, to comply with the demands of the Council contained in resolutions 2139 \(2014\) and 2165 \(2014\). This could make a meaningful difference in the lives of millions of people. But it will not replace the need for a political solution in the Syrian Arab Republic. No one is winning the Syrian war, and no one can win this conflict militarily. It is ordinary people who are paying the price for war and who crave a return to stability and security in their country.

Annex

1. Protection of civilians

Examples of attacks on civilian facilities (schools, hospitals, camps, places of worship)

Attacks on schools and hospitals during the reporting period

- On 19 June, a vehicle-borne improvised explosive device went off near Maysaloun School in Al-Nuzha neighbourhood of Homs city; 11 civilians were killed and dozens injured.
- On 29 June, a mortar landed near Al-Sabaat secondary school, in Al-Rastan area of Rural Homs. Four young girls were killed and at least four children were injured.
- As at 18 July, around 130 students kidnapped by the Islamic State on 29 May in Ain al-Arab are still being held.

Large-scale impact of conflict on public services

- The conflict continued to disrupt health-care services. Hospitals have been damaged in 12 of the country's 14 governorates. Out of 97 Ministry of Health hospitals:
 - 45 per cent are reported as fully functioning; 30 per cent are reported as partially functioning; and 25 per cent are reported as not functioning at all.
 - 69 per cent are reported as accessible to patients seeking treatment, while 31 per cent are not accessible because of insecurity.
- Water production in Aleppo is reportedly at less than 50 per cent capacity following damage caused to water, sewage and electrical networks by an explosion on 2 June. As a result, an estimated 1 million people are reportedly facing difficulties in regularly accessing safe water supplies in the area. Access to repair the pumping station was secured on 19 July and repairs were started; they should be completed in one month.
- The Early Warning and Response System has reported over 1,650 cases of suspected typhoid in Deir ez-Zor Governorate, mostly in the towns of Al-Bukamal and Al-Mayadin owing to the reported cuts in the water and electricity supply by the Islamic State on 8 June.
- On 1 July, there were two explosions close to the main police station in Khan Eshieh Palestine Refugee Camp, resulting in the death of at least one Palestine refugee, injuring seven, and causing significant material and structural damage.

2. Safe and unhindered humanitarian access to people in need

Hard-to-reach areas

- Latest estimates indicate that 4.7 million people are located in “hard-to-reach” areas and in urgent need of humanitarian assistance.

- Food assistance was provided to 95,838 people during the reporting period in hard-to-reach areas (73,754 by WFP and 22,084 by UNRWA).

- Because of ongoing insecurity and the impact of new procedures for reaching hard-to-reach areas, there were no deliveries of health supplies by UNICEF, while UNFPA was unable to distribute any dignity kits or reproductive health commodities.

Inter-agency convoys

- There were five inter-agency convoys during the reporting period:
 - From 14 to 21 July, five inter-agency convoys reached Madamiyet Elsham and provided food, non-food items and hygiene supplies for 30,000 people in total (20,000 inside Madamiyet and 10,000 in Government-held areas of the town). No medical supplies were allowed on the convoy, including primary health-care kits for children; however, two SARC mobile clinics accessed the area and provided medical services and 1,000 doses of vaccines (polio and regular immunization) on 15, 16, 17 and 21 July.
- Six inter-agency convoys were requested but could not be sent during the reporting period:
 - On 15 July, the United Nations hub in Homs submitted a request for a cross-line convoy to Sahel Gahab (north-western Rural Hama), and requested follow-up for a pending inter-agency convoy request from 3 June. The convoys have yet to be approved.
 - An inter-agency convoy to Douma planned for 14 to 16 July could not be sent for lack of approval from authorities.
 - An inter-agency convoy to Abu al-Thohur, Idlib Governorate, planned for 29 June could not be sent for lack of approval from authorities. On 6 July, a reminder was sent to the Idlib Governor requesting approval for the convoy on 7 July. The Governor confirmed that the convoy should be approved by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.
 - In Homs, on 23 June, the Homs Governor informed the United Nations hub that cross-line convoys should be approved directly by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. On 15 July, the United Nations hub

Besieged areas

- 241,000 people remain besieged in total.

- UNHCR submitted two requests for the importation of items from Turkey which were approved.

From Jordan

- UNHCR submitted 46 official requests to the Government of the Syrian Arab Republic for importation of core relief items across the Jordanian border. All were approved.
- On 24 June, following the opening of the new UNHCR office and logistics hub in As-Sweida, core relief items for 5,000 people were dispatched directly from the Jordanian border through to As-Sweida and then to hard-to-reach areas in Dara'a Governorate, without the need to pass through Damascus.

From Lebanon

- On 24 June, the Daret Izzeh Surgical Hospital in western Rural Aleppo was targeted by warplanes resulting in the partial destruction of the hospital.
- On 23 and 24 June, a field hospital in Aleppo city supported by an international NGO was targeted by barrel bombs. Extensive damage was reported to infrastructure and life-saving equipment including oxygen and electric generators.
- On 23 June, a hospital in the Al-Sakhour area of Aleppo city was hit by barrel bombs, resulting in the destruction of the hospital.

Six attacks occurred in Aleppo Governorate, one in Hama Governorate, one in Homs Governorate, one in Idlib Governorate, and one in Rural Damascus Governorate. All 10 attacks were by Government forces. In total, PHR has documented 175 attacks on 143 separate medical facilities by the end of June 2014.
- Physicians for Human Rights documented that 19 medical personnel were killed during June; 18 were killed by Government forces and one by armed opposition groups. Overall, PHR have recorded the deaths of 526 medical personnel since the start of the conflict.

Removal of medicines and medical supplies from convoys

- Access to medical supplies and equipment continues to be hampered by insecurity and by constraints imposed on humanitarian operations by the Government of the Syrian Arab Republic. During the reporting period, medicines and medical equipment for approximately 24,000 people in hard-to-reach areas were unavailable because of lack of approval and removal of supplies.
 - 24,000 people were unable to receive six months' worth of medical and basic surgical supplies and critical supplies that had been readied by WHO for delivery as part of the five convoys to Madamiyet Elsham from 14 to 19 July.

Polio vaccination campaign

- As at 9 July 2014, there have been 36 confirmed cases of polio; 35 cases from October to December 2013, and one case in 2014. The confirmed cases were in Deir ez-Zor (25), Aleppo (5), Idlib (3), Al-Hasakeh (2) and Hama (1).
- During the polio vaccination round from 15 to 19 June, 2.7 million children were reached in all 14 governorates. Around 30 per cent of children were located in hard-to-reach areas.
- UNICEF provided 28.5 million doses of oral polio vaccine to the Government, which is the total amount needed to cover the polio response plan until September 2014. The next polio round will begin at the end of August and will be part of the Sub-National Immunization Days.

Measles vaccination campaign

- There are 389 confirmed measles cases in the Syrian Arab Republic to date, most registered in Deir ez-Zor and Ar-Raqa. In addition, more than 2,800 cases of suspected measles have been reported through the early warning system, double the number reported for the whole of 2013.
- UNICEF and WHO supported a Ministry of Health-led measles vaccination campaign from 15 to 26 June, targeting up to 1 million children in high-risk areas. Preliminary results indicate that around 746,279 children were reached across all 14 governorates, including Deir ez-Zor (123,144), Aleppo (88,773) and Al-Hasakeh (83,539).
- UNICEF delivered 6.5 million doses of vitamin A to the Ministry of Health, which were used during the measles campaign and will also be used in the routine sessions of vaccinations.

4. Administrative hurdles

- On 9 June, the Ministry of Social Affairs communicated to governors that all convoys or missions to “hot spot areas”^a required the approval of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, the High Relief Committee and the National Security Office. Previously, the governors were delegated to coordinate and authorize delivery of assistance within their respective governorates including across lines of conflict, in areas where hubs are approved. Delivery of assistance to cross-line locations has been significantly hampered throughout the reporting period as a result of the roll-out of this new directive.
- On 2 July, the Humanitarian Coordinator requested, in writing to the Government, clarification of the new procedures for the importation of goods issued on 29 May. The new procedures added administrative layers to the customs clearance process, including approval from the local governor and submission of weekly importation plans.
- On 7 July, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs communicated a time frame for submitting the weekly loading plans according to the truck sealing procedures rolled out for the movement of trucks for regular programmes: loading plans are to be submitted by United Nations agencies on Monday each week during working hours. The Government has committed itself to clearing the weekly loading plans on Thursday, for distributions to start on Saturdays.
- WHO has received exemption from some of these procedures with respect to medicines, vaccines and some medical equipment.

Clearance procedures for telecommunications equipment

- Government approvals to import and operate information and communications technology equipment remain a lengthy process. UNHCR obtained approval from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs for VHF radios (at the customs awaiting clearance), VSATs for Qamishly and Damascus (at Damascus airport customs awaiting clearance), and ProGres servers/laptops (soon to be shipped to Damascus). The import permit is still pending approval from Ministry of Foreign Affairs for a VSAT for Aleppo and CISCO telephony system.

Empowered interlocutors

- Government of the Syrian Arab Republic. The joint United Nations and Government of the Syrian Arab Republic Committee established following the adoption of resolution 2139 \(2014\) includes a security focal point. Regular meetings are held between the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and the Humanitarian Coordinator on an almost daily basis. The Committee includes a security focal point.
- Opposition. The opposition is still unable to designate empowered interlocutors. The fragmented nature of the opposition makes it difficult to clearly identify an interlocutor for armed opposition groups.

^a The Government of the Syrian Arab Republic refers to “hot spots”. Clarification was requested by the United Nations on 16 July for the definition and criteria of hot spots but has to date not been received. For the purpose of this report, these are referred to as hard-to-reach areas until this has been clarified, owing to the difficulty in reaching these locations.

- Ad hoc local engagement is ongoing to negotiate access. Interlocutors vary depending on the localities where access is being negotiated.

Visas

- The revised visa policy established by the Government of the Syrian Arab Republic on 4 March continued to be implemented. As at 18 July, a total of 68 United Nations visas or renewal requests remain pending, 29 within the 15 working day limit and 39 exceeding the 15 working days. There has been an increase in the number of pending visas for international NGOs, with 17 requests now pending, up from 13 during the last reporting period.
- The six visas requested for the members of the crop and food security assessment mission from the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO) and WFP were not obtained in a timely fashion. The mission originally intended a three-week period from 11 June to ensure adequate field crop observation. On 3 July 2014, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs granted visas for a one-week mission and valid only until 20 July. However, the proposed timing (during Ramadan and after the harvesting of crops) hampers the conduct of a credible and independent assessment.

Humanitarian hubs and presence

- On 18 June, UNHCR officially opened a field office in As-Sweida to oversee UNHCR operational activities in the south, in addition to establishing a logistics hub for humanitarian supplies arriving across the Syrian/Jordanian border.
- The Aleppo hub is still being operationalized and is currently staffed with international and national staff. Further progress has been made in establishing a UNICEF office in Aleppo, with the recruitment of new staff under way.

International non-governmental organization partners

- The number of international NGOs approved to work in the Syrian Arab Republic stands at 16; no new international NGOs requested approval to work in the country during the reporting period.
- International NGOs are still not authorized to work directly with national NGOs and are not allowed to accompany United Nations convoys to the field.
- There was no progress during the reporting period on the revision of the standard memorandum of understanding for international NGOs with SARC and line ministries.

National non-governmental organization partners

- The number of national NGOs authorized to partner stands at 85, operating through 142 branches.

- $27.2 million of funding for the Syrian crisis was registered during the reporting period. Of that amount, $10.9 million were for activities inside the Syrian Arab Republic and $16.3 million were for support to Syrian refugees in neighbouring countries.

- Of the total amount reported for the Syrian Arab Republic during the reporting period, 45 per cent ($4.9 million) was for activities included in the Syria Humanitarian Assistance Response Plan. For neighbouring countries, 89 per cent ($14.5 million) of the amount reported was for activities included in the Syria Regional Refugee Response Plan.
- As at 21 July, the total funding for the Syria Humanitarian Assistance Response Plan and the Syria Regional Refugee Response Plan stands at 33 per cent ($6.02 billion requested, $1.98 billion received). The Syria Humanitarian Assistance Response Plan is 27 per cent funded and the Syria Regional Refugee Response Plan is 37 per cent funded.

This included treatments for 412,049 people in opposition-controlled areas in Aleppo and Ar-Raqqa, where medicines and supplies for 344,363 people were delivered to health authorities and are currently being distributed. In Al-Hasakeh Governorate, 11,790 people were reached with water, sanitation and hygiene supplies in collaboration with SARC and Al-Bir Association. In Ar-Raqqa, UNICEF supported 2,250 displaced people residing in camps in the Mansoura area with drinking water services in partnership with Al-Bir. Meanwhile, agreements with two local NGOs will see water, sanitation and hygiene services provided to 22,000 displaced people at the Tishreen shelter and another 51 buildings.
- UNICEF supported immediate responses to address the water crisis in Aleppo including through water trucking services in partnership with NGOs, the municipality and the Aleppo Water Authority. UNICEF is also undertaking hygiene promotion activities among internally displaced persons and host communities living in the western part of Aleppo city.
